Welcome Hazen Community!

Your assignment for the month of September is to get to know your students' teachers! Come to Open House and start the introductions to a conversation that you will want to have all year. "I'd never allow a stranger to educate my child", says Jan Harp Domene, former PTA National President. Be positive and emphasize you are there to help, not disrupt the education process. Understand the teachers' objectives for the semester, so you can help guide your student and eliminate any end-of-the-semester surprises. You will find that the teachers at Hazen are extremely talented and well educated and this is a great opportunity to thank them for teaching your student!

Your assignment for the month of November is to continue the conversation and attend parent-teacher conferences! Even if your student is doing well, one-on-one time with his/her teachers is valuable, and you can ask any questions you may have. Knowing your student's teachers will help you connect more to your kids too. Conversations around the dinner table can only be enhanced when you know about your student's life away from home!

Remember to help your student succeed in school by showing up regularly at school events to establish visibility. And a really great way to connect with other supportive parents and get to know what is happening at Hazen is to join parent groups!

These Hazen students are our future and working together, we can make the future a successful one!

Thank you for everything you do for our kids at Hazen. Michele Williams, President
